Defense Budget: Fiscal Year 2018 Obligations of Operation and Maintenance Funding for Overseas Contingency Operations

According to the Department of Defense (DOD), since September 2001, Congress has appropriated approximately $1.8 trillion to DOD for Overseas Contingency Operations (OCO), primarily in Iraq and Afghanistan.¹ Since fiscal year 2010, DOD has submitted separate requests for both base and OCO funding as part of its annual budget request to Congress.² Congress separately appropriates amounts for both base and OCO activities into the same appropriation accounts, such as Operation & Maintenance (O&M) accounts or the Afghanistan Security Forces Fund account, and directs how funds are to be spent by designating specific amounts at the activity level in conference reports or in explanatory statements accompanying annual appropriations acts. In enclosure I, we include the status of our prior recommendations from recent reports related to DOD’s use of OCO funds.

² Prior to fiscal year 2010, requests for Global War on Terror and contingency operations funding were presented to Congress as requests for supplemental appropriations. Supplemental appropriations provided additional budget authority, usually in cases where the need for funds is too urgent to be postponed until enactment of a regular appropriations bill.

Section 1523 of the John S. McCain National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2019 included a provision for us to report on how funds authorized to be appropriated for fiscal year 2018 for OCO were obligated.³ The National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 authorized $48.6 billion for O&M OCO, and subsequently the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2018, appropriated $50.7 billion for O&M OCO.⁴ In fiscal year 2018, this O&M OCO amount of $50.7 billion comprised approximately 76 percent of DOD's OCO appropriations total of $66.8 billion.⁵ In this report, we examine how amounts authorized and appropriated for O&M OCO activities were obligated by DOD for fiscal year 2018.

To determine how DOD obligated the amounts authorized and appropriated for O&M OCO activities in fiscal year 2018, we first compared authorized and appropriated O&M OCO amounts by sub-activity group.⁶ We then analyzed obligation data provided by DOD related to the same sub-activity groups.

To assess the reliability of DOD's obligation data, we obtained responses from knowledgeable agency officials on what processes the military departments have in place to ensure data reliability, and we reviewed DOD's Agency Financial Report for fiscal year 2018. In addition, we compared the data provided with published data, such as the data reported in DOD's budget justification materials, the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018, and the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2018. There are some known limitations to the DOD obligation data we used, as indicated in DOD's Agency Financial Report for fiscal year 2018. However, we concluded that the data are sufficiently reliable for describing in this report how amounts authorized for O&M OCO were ultimately appropriated and obligated by sub-activity groups within specific appropriation accounts in fiscal year 2018, because they represent the best DOD data available and are extracted from DOD systems of record.

⁴ This OCO O&M appropriation total includes the Defense Health Program amount designated for OCO, as well as service-specific O&M OCO accounts, the Afghanistan Security Forces Fund, and the Counter-Islamic State of Iraq and Syria Train and Equip Fund. The National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 did not specifically authorize OCO amounts for the Defense Health Program. However, appropriated OCO amounts were congressionally designated to and executed out of the program's O&M appropriation account.

⁵ Each military service component (active, reserve, and National Guard) has its own O&M appropriation account; there are also O&M accounts for defense-wide and other DOD programs. DOD components' O&M accounts fund day-to-day operations ranging from health care to equipment maintenance.

We conducted this performance audit from September 2018 to March 2019 in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain sufficient, appropriate evidence to provide a reasonable basis for our findings and conclusions based on our audit objectives. We believe that the evidence obtained provides a reasonable basis for our findings and conclusions based on our audit objectives.

DOD Reported Obligating Its Fiscal Year 2018 O&M OCO Appropriations on War-Related Activities as Authorized

In fiscal year 2018, Congress authorized $48.6 billion and appropriated $50.7 billion for O&M OCO, and DOD reported obligating $46.5 billion. DOD reported obligating these funds for war-related activities, including security forces training missions, in-theater base support operations (dining facilities, laundry, security, and housing), ship operations, flying hours, equipment maintenance and repair, and transportation. Amounts reported as obligated in some sub-activity groups exceed the congressionally directed amounts for those same groups as a result of transfers and reprogrammings.⁷ Table 1 shows by selected appropriation accounts OCO amounts authorized, appropriated, and obligated for fiscal year 2018. In enclosure II, we provide additional detail on the fiscal year 2018 O&M OCO amounts authorized, appropriated, and reported obligated by sub-activity groups within selected appropriation accounts.

⁷DOD has the authority to realign funds within and between appropriation accounts. DOD can realign funds both (1) between appropriation accounts through transfers and (2) within an appropriation through reprogramming. Transfers require statutory authority. DOD may reprogram funds within an appropriation account up to a specific threshold without additional authority. If a reprogramming exceeds the threshold level established by Congress, prior approval by Congress is required. Our mandate did not direct us to determine whether DOD realigned funds in accordance with these requirements.

Note: Numbers may not sum to totals due to rounding.

^a Amounts appropriated for O&M OCO refer to congressionally designated amounts in the explanatory statement accompanying the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2018. They do not include adjustments to the designated amounts as a result of transfers or reprogrammings made by DOD.

^b Amounts obligated for O&M OCO may include transfers and reprogrammings. DOD may realign funding between and within appropriation accounts through transfers and reprogrammings, as authorized and subject to certain conditions, to meet unanticipated and/or emergent requirements.

^c The National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 did not specifically authorize OCO amounts for the Defense Health Program. However, appropriated OCO amounts were congressionally designated to and executed out of the program's O&M appropriation account.

^dThe Afghanistan Security Forces Fund and the Counter-Islamic State of Iraq and Syria Train and Equip Fund accounts include appropriated amounts made available for a 2-year period, that is, fiscal years 2018 and 2019. However, the obligated amounts reflect fiscal year 2018 only. The U.S. Department of the Treasury's annual Combined Statement of Receipts, Outlays, and Balances of the United States Government lists both the Afghanistan Security Forces Fund and the Counter-Islamic State of Iraq and Syria Train and Equip Fund as O&M appropriations.

Enclosure I: Status of Prior Recommendations from Recent GAO Reports Related to the Department of Defense’s (DOD) Use of Overseas Contingency Operations (OCO) Funds

From 2016 through 2017, we issued three reports related to DOD’s use of or reporting on OCO funds in which we made recommendations. They are as follows:

Overseas Contingency Operations: OMB and DOD Should Revise the Criteria for Determining Eligible Costs and Identify the Costs Likely to Endure Long Term, GAO-17-68 (January 2017)

In this report, we found that the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), in collaboration with DOD, issued criteria for deciding whether items properly belong in the base budget or in the OCO funding request, but the criteria were outdated and did not address the full scope of activities included in DOD’s fiscal year 2017 OCO budget request.⁸ We also reported that DOD officials told us the department had developed an initial estimate of costs being funded with OCO appropriations that are likely to endure beyond current operations, but had not finalized or reported its estimate outside of the department. According to DOD officials, an internal working group established in 2014 estimated that enduring costs account for between $20 billion and $30 billion per year – or as much as 43 percent of DOD’s total OCO budget request for fiscal year 2017.⁹

We made two recommendations in this report. First, we recommended that DOD, in consultation with OMB, reevaluate and revise the criteria for determining what can be included in DOD’s OCO budget requests to reflect current OCO-related activities and relevant budget policy directing in which budget requests OCO funds may be included. DOD concurred with this recommendation and stated that it planned to propose updated criteria to OMB to reflect current and evolving threats and reflect any changes in overseas contingency operations policy under the new administration. In October 2017, a DOD official stated that the department had discussed modifications to the criteria with the military departments and combatant commands, but that it had not made formal recommendations to OMB to revise the criteria at that time. The National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 included a provision requiring DOD and OMB to update their OCO criteria by September 2018. However, in January 2019, a DOD official confirmed that neither OMB nor DOD had released updated criteria.

Second, we recommended that DOD develop a complete and reliable estimate of its enduring OCO costs and report these costs in concert with the department's future budget requests, and use the estimate as a foundation for any future efforts to transition enduring costs to DOD's base budget. DOD partially concurred with this recommendation and commented that developing reliable estimates is an important first step in any future effort to transition these costs to the base budget. However, DOD stated that until there is relief from the budgetary caps established by the Budget Control Act of 2011, DOD would need OCO funding to finance counterterrorism operations such as Operation Freedom's Sentinel and Operation Inherent Resolve.¹⁰ In April 2018, DOD produced an estimate of the funds that would be shifted from the OCO to the base budget request from fiscal years 2020 through 2023. These amounts ranged from $53.0 billion to $45.8 billion. This step addressed the intent of our recommendation. However, the President's fiscal year 2020 budget request increases OCO amounts in fiscal years 2020 and 2021 to nearly $165 billion and $156 billion, respectively. According to the Administration's fiscal year 2020 budget, these amounts fund direct war costs, enduring in-theater support, and certain base budget requirements. The budget further proposes that after fiscal year 2021, which is the final year of the discretionary spending limits under current law, OCO amounts for 2022 and 2023 would be $20 billion in each year.

Bulk Fuel: Actions Needed to Improve DOD's Fuel Consumption Budget Data, GAO-16-644 (September 2016)

In this report, we found that DOD's budget materials did not separate the military services' actual operation and maintenance (O&M) base obligations for fuel consumption spending for day-to-day activities from their actual O&M OCO obligations for war-related fuel consumption spending.¹¹ We recommended that DOD report complete fuel consumption information to Congress, to include actual and estimated fuel volume and actual O&M base obligations for fuel consumption spending separate from O&M OCO obligations. We noted that this information could be provided as part of DOD's annual O&M budget justification materials, or through other reporting mechanisms. DOD did not concur with this recommendation. DOD stated that it agreed that including additional fuel consumption detail could be useful information, and stated that it will look at ways to incorporate additional data in upcoming budget submissions. However, DOD stated that it would be difficult and labor intensive to implement a system to separate base data from OCO data for several reasons. Among those reasons, DOD stated that many legacy financial systems currently in use cannot easily distinguish between base and OCO execution data. DOD also stated that manually identifying these data would be extremely labor intensive. In addition, DOD stated that once all DOD components convert from the legacy systems, the department should be able to report base and OCO obligations consistently and effectively. DOD had not taken any actions to implement this recommendation as of August 2018; however, we continue to believe that the recommendation is valid and we will follow up annually on the status of the recommendation with DOD.

Defense Budget: DOD Needs to Improve Reporting of Operation and Maintenance Base Obligations, GAO-16-537 (August 2016)

In this report, we found that DOD reported a combination of O&M base and O&M OCO obligations in its budget justification materials and execution reports, but did not separately report its base and OCO obligations.¹² We found that the military services tracked O&M obligations by base and OCO appropriations for OCO reporting purposes, but DOD's financial management regulations did not require it to report O&M base obligations separately for each account in its budget justification materials and execution reports. We recommended that DOD separately report O&M base and O&M OCO obligations in its budget justification materials and execution reports. DOD did not concur with this recommendation. In its comments on our report, DOD stated that many legacy financial systems cannot easily distinguish between O&M base and O&M OCO obligations. DOD acknowledged that it should be able to separately report base and OCO obligations across all appropriations once all DOD components have converted from their legacy financial systems. DOD had not taken any action to implement this recommendation as of September 2018; however, we continue to believe that the recommendation is valid and we will follow up annually on the status of the recommendation with DOD.

^a Amounts appropriated for O&M OCO refer to congressionally designated amounts in the explanatory statement accompanying the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2018. These amounts may include funding adjustments made by Congress, such as transfers to support certain programs. They do not include adjustments to the designated amounts as a result of transfers or reprogrammings made by the Department of Defense (DOD).

^b Amounts reported as obligated for O&M OCO may not be equal to the amounts appropriated as a result of transfers and reprogrammings. DOD may realign funding between and within appropriation accounts through transfers and reprogrammings, as authorized, and, subject to certain conditions, to meet unanticipated and/or emergent requirements.

^c The explanatory statement accompanying the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2018 included $1,778,644,000 for the Theater Level Assets sub-activity group, but an Army official told us that this amount did not include a program decrease of $5,000,000. The appropriated amount shown in the table above includes this program decrease.

^d The Additional Activities sub-activity group funds day-to-day operations in theater, including train advise and assist missions, security forces training missions, enhanced training team operations, communications infrastructure, base support operations (dining facilities, laundry, security and housing), ground operating tempo, flying hours, unexploded ordnance removal, Defense Contract Management Agency support, supplies, and equipment maintenance, repair, and transportation. Additionally, the sub-activity group includes the costs to prepare, deploy, sustain, redeploy, and reconstitute the forces participating in these operations and the Department of the Army civilian personnel hired, and deployed, under provisions of the Civilian Expeditionary Workforce program. It also funds mandatory treaty obligations within the International Security Assistance Force for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Common Budget and supports the European Reassurance Initiative, Operation Freedom's Sentinel, and Operation Inherent Resolve.

^e The explanatory statement accompanying the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2018 included $6,860,268,000 for the Additional Activities sub-activity group, but an Army official told us that this amount did not include a program decrease of $22,000,000. The appropriated amount shown in the table above includes this program decrease.

^f The Closed Account Adjustments sub-activity group includes adjustments made, such as obligations or expenditures that were made or incurred but not recorded, during the period prior to expiration or cancellation of the account.

^g Although amounts were not specifically authorized or congressionally directed for this sub-activity group, DOD transferred or reprogrammed available appropriated amounts into this sub-activity group for subsequent obligation.

^h The Judgment Fund is available for court judgments and Justice Department compromise settlements of actual or imminent litigation against the government.

ⁱ The explanatory statement accompanying the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2018 included $1,083,390,000 for the Classified Programs sub-activity group, but an Army official told us that this amount did not include a program decrease of $41,000,000. The appropriated amount shown in the table above includes this program decrease.

They do not include adjustments to the designated amounts as a result of transfers or reprogrammings made by the Department of Defense (DOD).

^b Amounts reported as obligated for O&M OCO may not be equal to the amounts appropriated as a result of transfers and reprogrammings. DOD may realign funding between and within appropriation accounts through transfers and reprogrammings, as authorized, and, subject to certain conditions, to meet unanticipated and/or emergent requirements.

^c Although amounts were not specifically authorized or congressionally directed for this sub-activity group, DOD transferred or reprogrammed available appropriated amounts into this sub-activity group for subsequent obligation.

^d Although authorized for O&M OCO, Congress did not appropriate an amount for Coast Guard Support under O&M OCO in fiscal year 2018. Instead, Congress appropriated an amount for the Coast Guard in the Department of Homeland Security Appropriations Act, 2018. Pub. L. No. 115-141, div. F, tit. II (2018).

^a Amounts appropriated for O&M OCO refer to congressionally designated amounts in the explanatory statement accompanying the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2018. These amounts may include funding adjustments made by Congress, such as transfers or increases to support certain programs. They do not include adjustments to the designated amounts as a result of transfers or reprogrammings made by the Department of Defense (DOD).

^b Amounts reported as obligated for O&M OCO may not be equal to the amounts appropriated as a result of transfers and reprogrammings. DOD may realign funding between and within appropriation accounts through transfers and reprogrammings, as authorized, and, subject to certain conditions, to meet unanticipated and/or emergent requirements.

^c Obligations were not incurred for this sub-activity group, as originally intended, due to unanticipated and/or emergent requirements.

^d Although amounts were not specifically authorized or congressionally directed for this sub-activity group, DOD transferred or reprogrammed available appropriated amounts into this sub-activity group for subsequent obligation.

^cThe National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2018 did not specifically authorize OCO amounts for the Defense Health Program and the Defense Threat Reduction Agency. However, appropriated OCO amounts were congressionally designated to and executed out of the programs' O&M appropriation account.

^dThe Afghanistan Security Forces Fund and the Counter-Islamic State of Iraq and Syria Train and Equip Fund accounts include appropriated amounts made available for a 2-year period, that is, fiscal years 2018 and 2019. However, the obligated amounts reflect fiscal year 2018 only. The U.S. Department of the Treasury's annual Combined Statement of Receipts, Outlays, and Balances of the United States Government lists both the Afghanistan Security Forces Fund and the Counter-Islamic State of Iraq and Syria Train and Equip Fund as O&M appropriations.

GAO's Mission

The Government Accountability Office, the audit, evaluation, and investigative arm of Congress, exists to support Congress in meeting its constitutional responsibilities and to help improve the performance and accountability of the federal government for the American people. GAO examines the use of public funds; evaluates federal programs and policies; and provides analyses, recommendations, and other assistance to help Congress make informed oversight, policy, and funding decisions. GAO's commitment to good government is reflected in its core values of accountability, integrity, and reliability.
